Specialty in biotechnology, medical and biological products, and various detection, sensing, and tracking systems for port security. Also consultant to TechLink, the primary license transfer agency for DoD technologies and DARPA (Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency). Since 2001 assigned as senior project manager for the following technology transfer and commercialization projects throughout the U.S., including (non-confidential summaries are available):

1st Responder Technology Assessment Study and Interactive Training NIMS/Incident Command Structure and Scenario Analysis (2009, 1401 Office, Office of Secretary of Defense)
Needs Assessment: Command, Control, and Communication for 1st Responders (2008, 1401 Office, OSC)
User Friendly Hyperspectral Imaging System (2007, Lextel, Mississippi)
Through Wall Living Organism Detection (2006, Armadar, New Jersey)
Accelerating the Protection afforded by Vaccines (2006, Lancell, LLC, San Diego, CA)
Improved Solution for Managing Sand Fly Generated Disease Vectors (2006, ISCA Technology, Riverside, CA)
Solutions for Hard-Constraint Algorithms, Application of Cruise Missile Technology (2005, DoD, NM) – TechLink Project
Plastic Optic Design for head-Mounted Display, (2005, Liteye, CO)
MEMS Chemical Detection Sensor (2005, Seacoast Sciences, Inc., Oceanside, CA)
Optical Solutions for Advanced Fluorometer/Spectrometer (2005, Phi Technologies, Mission Viejo, CA) – DARPA project
SPLAT Technology to Manage Disease Vectors from Sand-Fly's (2005, ISCA Technologies, Riverside, CA)
Handheld Apparatus for Biological Collection and Registration (2004, Los Alamos Defense Laboratory, Los Alamos, New Mexico)
Biomass Gas Conversion Using Rocket Engine Technology (2004, Kelly Space Systems, Inc., San Bernardino, CA)
1st ResponderKit for Detection of Biowarfare Agents (2004, GeneSystems Inc., Maryland)
Portable Trap to Manage Disease Vector (2004 and 2005, ISCA Technologies, Riverside, CA)
Field Portable Anti-Terrorism Chemical Warfare Agent Sensor (2003, University of California, Riverside, CA)
Biosensors Based on Optical-Resonant Structure on CCD-Arrays (2003, University of California, Riverside, CA)
Intermodal Container Tracking System for Port Security (2002 and 2004, Mizar Technologies, Ohio)
Advanced MEMS-Accelerometers (2002, SPAWAR-San Diego, CA)
Micropore-Array Bio-Agent Detection System (2002, BioSystems, Inc, San Diego, CA)
Robust Automated Classification & Decision Support, Naval Undersea Warfare Center (2002, Naval Undersea Warfare Center, Rhode Island) – TechLink Project
Improved Hyperspectral X-ray Detector Modules (2001, NOVA, Inc., Riversdie, CA)
Demonstration of a Novel Vaccine Production Technology Platform (2001, Novatronic, Inc, San Diego, CA)
Passive Immunotherapy for Anthrax Treatment (2001, Xenex, Inc., San Diego, CA)

Member Screening Committee, Wilmington Investment Network (WIN), 2006 to present, “Angel” Investment Network in Southeastern North Carolina which provides the primary source of early stage equity funding within the region. Invited speaker, “Developing Industry Clusters: The Challenge for Our Educational System”, 5th Annual Future Forward Leadership Summit, Boone, NC, November 17, 2004.

Over one hundred and fifty invited presentations, professional articles, and talks in the areas of entrepreneurship, technology management and international business. Includes presentations to various doctorate and research consortiums such as the Academy of Management, and others sponsored by U.S. and international Ph.D. programs; various presentations to government organizations such as Congressional sub-committees and hearings, and various state and local agency programs; “invited” presentations to numerous professional organizations such as AAHA and AMA; presentations to several international government sponsored conferences, programs, and executive development sessions in India, Scotland, Albania, England, Mexico, Belize, and many Caribbean countries; various “invited” presentations and papers at academic conferences, such as Babson-Kaufman Entrepreneurial Research Conferences, the Strategic Management Society, and the national and regional Academy of Management Conferences. Also invited presentations regarding commercialization of technology to several university offices of technology transfer, the Center for Commercialization of Advanced Technology, SPAWAR, DHS, and NIH.

OTHER RELEVANT ACTIVITIES AND AWARDS

External Grant Proposals (recent)

Funded:

- 1) Economic Input-Output Analysis of Southeastern North Carolina (Co-PIs: Craig Galbraith and Leslie Hossfeld) (funded $40,000, North Carolina Rural Agency, 2008, on-going)
- 2) Film Studio Feasibility Study (Co-PI: Craig Galbraith and Ed Graham), $15,000, UNCW Chancellor’s Fund, 2008)
- 3) Neural Network, Linear Pattern Recognition and BDRA testing (PI: Craig Galbraith) (funded, $9,600, SPAWAR-SD, 2004, projected completed 5/04);
- 4) Commercial Application and Dual-Use Transfer of Cruise Missile Hard Constraint Algorithms (PI: Craig Galbraith and Doug Kline) (funded, $15,000, TechLink, 2004-2006)

3) Aboriginal Entrepreneurship and Economic Development (with consortium of Canadian, Australian, and U.S. universities (UNCW), co-investigator (proposal, $150,000 (UNCW component approximately $6,000), Canadian Economic Development Agency, 2004)

External Contracts for Student Support (recent)

Supervised external contractual projects with SPARWAR, TechLink, Office of Secretary of Defense, and CCAT that have provided direct funding for over twenty different UNCW undergraduate and graduate students for over $80,000 (2002-present).

Awards (selected)

Awarded GlaxoSmithKline Faculty Fellow, 2004-2005 (competitive award from the Institute of Emerging Issues, NC State University); UNCW Award for Outstanding Faculty Scholarship, 2003 (top university award for research at UNCW); A.T. Kearney Award for Best Dissertation in Strategic Management (Business Policy Division, Academy of Management), 1981; Identified as one of the top 100 cited researchers in strategy, 1993-2003 (Cummings, 2004 citation and publication references); Best Paper in Behavioral Economics Series, Edward Elgar, Ltd., 1988; Various Awards and Research Grants, UNCW (1993-present); Editorial Board, Journal of Small Business and Entrepreneurship and Journal of Enterprising Communities.
